SYNOPSIS

A street-smart girl with a hidden talent for tennis must face the nation's top junior champion in a high-stakes tournament to save the only place she's ever felt she belongs.

Uma, a sharp and resilient 12-year-old street vendor, discovers a natural talent for tennis after a run-in with a privileged young champion. When she's taken in by a struggling school for underprivileged kids, she finds not only a coach and a team, but a sense of belonging she's never known. But her greatest obstacle lies ahead: her rival's powerful father is determined to shut the school down, forcing Uma into a national tournament where the stakes go far beyond the court. With vibrant characters, humor, and emotional depth, WINNER delivers a universal story about identity, second chances, and the true meaning of winning—designed to resonate with global family audiences.

SYNOPSIS

Tricked into a daring heist, a wannabe hero horse hides out as a show pony in a small village. But when danger strikes, going undercover won't be enough—he'll have to step up for real.

Bravo, an overenthusiastic park patrol horse who dreams of being a hero, is tricked by criminals into stealing a priceless crown. Realizing he's been used, he escapes with the evidence and hides out in a small village, where he meets Luna, a spirited girl determined to honor her mother by entering her "pony" act in a local show—despite her pets being anything but.

When Bravo becomes her unlikely show pony, he sees a chance to go undercover and redeem himself. But when the criminals catch up and kidnap Luna, Bravo must choose between proving he's a hero... or truly becoming one.

SYNOPSIS

Based on the award winning graphic novel, written by acclaimed Marvel artist EDGAR DELGADO. Translated and published in over 12 countries worldwide.

Carlos Bahia, a smooth-talking business duck, loves his drama-free life—until things spiral out of control. First, he fumbles asking out Lisa, the new HR rep. Then his bullied coworker, Horace, steals some alienpowered gauntlets, turning the office into chaos. When a cosmic entity ropes Carlos and Horace into saving the world, things only get weirder. Carlos ends up as the flashy hero Ultraduck, while Horace's mishaps summon Omegallus, a city-destroying menace. Between botched dates, workplace disasters, and city-smashing battles, Carlos learns to stop being so full of himself, and Horace figures out that revenge isn't all it's cracked up to be. With some unlikely teamwork, they take down a power-hungry CEO, patch things up with their coworkers, and save the day—mostly without breaking anything else.

A monstrous love story!

Monsters live in a hidden world, away from humans whom they fear. The monsters are so different and have so diverse interests that they have some rivalries. But Netsy, Yetti, Shewolf and Coco have created some sort of a family. But one night, a 4-year-old girl named Hanna discovers Coco in her room and she follows him to Monsterville. But when she arrives, they panic: if she is not returned intime, she might get trapped in Monsterville forever and humans will come looking for her. They are scared of her, but they manage to accept her differences. But when the Cyclop and Gargoyle, their rivals, kidnap the girl, they will have to put their differences aside to save Hanna from a dark plan.

SYNOPSIS

Tanit, Valeria and Shaila are three women from very different parts of the world who face the same problem: climate change. They will lose everything because of global warming effects and they will be forced to emigrate to survive.

BLACK BUTTERFLIES begins in a heartbreaking present before revisiting the lost pasts of the main characters. It tells their stories and fight to survive while preserving their identities. These three lives, like many others, are affected by global warming and deserve attention. The World Bank estimated that by 2050, climate change will force 143 million people from Latin America, Africa, and South Asia to leave their homes, mostly from regions that have contributed little to the problem.

The House in My Head is a series adapted from the French children's book "Ma maison-tête" by Vincent Gagnon, better known as Vigg. The book won both the Harry Black Award for Children's Literature and the TD Canadian Children's Literature Award in 2021.

Vincent is often overwhelmed by his emotions - like any child of his age. Except in Vincent's case, they're troubles that happen every day because he lives with a Deficit Disorder with or without Hyperactivity (ADHD). The House in Vincent's Head looks like a normal house, but once inside, fantasy and imagination reign! Wandering through the labyrinth of rooms in his head, Vincent has startling – and sometimes confusing encounters, which ultimately reveal a way out of his problem.

Joy Eternal is a mystery and adventure comedy as the audience is transported between visions of the earth and the afterlife they've never seen before.

Joy (16) drifts in a vast Void with other newly dead souls and is deemed worthy of paradise—but refuses, blaming herself for her parents' deaths. They're trapped in the City of Lost Souls, inside a monster that devours spirits, and Joy vows to rescue them. Unfortunately, she's handcuffed to Oogle (16), a panicked security intern without his key. The truth is darker: her parents' deaths and the monster-ship are both controlled by mega-corporation H&H, which exploits the afterlife itself. If Joy finds her parents, they can unlock a stolen code that could destroy the City—but powerful forces, and Joy's own self-destructive guilt, stand in her way.
